HUNDREDS ATTEND ANNUAL EGG HUNT IN CIVIC PARK

This year's event was free thanks to support of Anthem Blue Cross

HANFORD, CA – Children swarmed Civic Park to swoop up as many pieces of candy and toys as they could at Hanford Parks and Community Services' annual Egg Hunt last Friday. Thanks to generous support from Anthem Blue Cross, this year's event was free for those who registered online. Freeway Toyota and Remscape also sponsored this year's event.

"We're very happy to offer this Easter experience to families in our community," said Hanford Parks & Community Services Director Brad Albert. "We're especially grateful for Anthem Blue Cross' sponsorship, which allowed us to make this year's event free for the first time."

The event was open to children ages one to nine, and all registered participants received a basket to use on their hunt. The eggs had a variety of toys and candy pieces inside them, and there were even a few golden eggs containing vouchers for bigger prizes. Parents were allowed to assist with the 1-3-year-old age group.

Various vendors participated at the event, including: Sugar Mutt Cotton Candy, Modern Farmhouse Cookies, CenCal Pizza Trolley, Tacos San Marcos, KK's Kettle Corn, and facepainting. Rides on Freddie the Firetruck and the Carousel were also available.
